Walk        Bike        Run

Bill Fairbank was a Professor of Physics from 1959 until his death in 1989. He was an avid runner and inspiring person. In his honor, Stanford's Physics Department holds this event every year and opens it up to the general public.

The winner, as in year's past, will be the runner, walker, or bicyclist, whose actual time is (fractionally) closest to his or her predicted time. All participants must leave timing devices at home (watches, cell phones, garmins, etc.)

Maps of the routes will be provided.

To participate in this event, you must sign the 2019 waiver form that will be provided by the department at the event.

Questions? Contact the Physics Department at (650) 723-3349 or Bob Wagoner at wagoner@stanford.edu.
